When equipped with a Briggs & Stratton 2.5 horsepower (1.9 kW), the tractor model became RJ-25. The attached files remainedThe same for the RJ series. Since 1956-1957, the wheel horse changed the color of the black wheels to an almond color. The demand for these small tractors grew so much in the late 1959 that could not be maintained with the production. Sales were more than 4.5 million dollars. In 1960 there were significant style changes. However, the engine location immediately in front of the operator and the 12 -inch (305 mm) wheels were the same. This year two tractor models were presented: the 400 model, with a 4 HP (3.0 kW) Kohler engine (3.0 kW) and the 550 model, with a 5.5 hp tecumseh-lauson engine (4.1 kW) . These two models were known as the "suburban" tractors. In 1965, Wheel Horse was one of the first to introduce tractors with a hydrostatic conduct system, model 875 and 1075 "Wheel-A-Matics" . [6] in the spring of 1969, Horse opened a production plant in Oevel, Belgium. The factory was called Ammor N.V. Production ended on this site in 1991.
